Subject objectives	The purpose of the course is to familiarize students with the specifics of the issues of humanitarian aid and development assistance and to demonstrate that both types of such activities are a key element of the donor country's foreign policy. The course will introduce both the definitions of humanitarian and development aid and the methods of action for their implementation. The peculiarities of beneficiary countries will also be discussed, with a particular focus on dysfunctional countries, where both types of aid are often the basic element enabling their functioning.
