	[FROSL3_K01] The graduate is prepared to critically evaluate their own knowledge and the content they encounter, particularly in relation to issues concerning the Russian language and Russian literature.	The student learns, through dedicated grammar and lexical tasks, to evaluate and correct his/her own and others' work, by critically comparing his/her own or others' answers with the original written or listened text. He/she is also able to consciously recognise his/her own error and associate which learnt spelling rules (spelling, grammar) he/she is violating, which gives an awareness of a coherent language system. The student(s) is able to critically interpret a text, understand the context and style of expression, and thus the linguistic norms and etiquette allowed within it. He/she is able to accept textbook content as well as authentic materials critically, taking into account the diversity of views and possible forms of linguistic persuasion.	[SK1] oral statement/conversation/discussion [SK2] presentation/project/paper/report [SK3] text preparation/written work [SK4] test/exam - oral or written [SK8] observation of student's independent or team work
	[FROSL3_U09] The graduate is able to participate in a debate in Russian, Polish, and a second foreign language, presenting and evaluating various opinions and viewpoints, as well as discussing them.	Students will be able to take part in discussions on topics in accordance with the programme using Russian, evaluate and discuss various opinions and positions. He/she will be able to present a review of a film or play watched in Russian. Can use various styles of expression, including journalistic.	[SU1] oral statement/conversation/discussion
	[FROSL3_U10] The graduate is able to plan individual and/or team work, taking on various roles within the group.	The student has the ability to organise his/her individual work in class and at home, but also to manage the work of a group or to take on a designated role in it, which is important when completing tasks in a group during classes and when preparing a presentation through a designated group. The student, as a member of a group, is able to accurately assess his/her skills and competences in order to independently choose a role in the group and to offer the group his/her contribution to the task.	[SU5] implementation of a problem task [SU8] observation of student's independent or team work
	[FROSL3_U06] The graduate is able to present the results of their work in Polish and Russian in a clear, systematic, and well-thought-out manner, using various modern methods and techniques.	Student is able to use genres of expression in journalistic style. He/she is able to write reviews, commentaries, interviews, media announcements and prepare multimedia materials about cinema, theatre and mass media in Russian using the latest techniques (animations, sound effects, voiceover, etc.). Students will be able to write narrative, descriptive, persuasive, expository essays on a film-related topic.	[SU1] oral statement/conversation/discussion [SU2] presentation/project/paper/report [SU3] text preparation/written work [SU4] test/exam - oral or written
	[FROSL3_U07] The graduate is able to use the Russian language at the B2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).	Students will be able to create statements using correctly the Russian syntax of the singular sentence and the rules of punctuation. He/she is also able to use in speech and writing the forms of the numeral, applying them appropriately e.g. in journalistic statements. He/she is able to correctly select the grammatical cases of nouns, pronouns and adjectives according to the context of the utterance.
