Subject objectives	The subject is designed to familiarise students with the specificities of audiovisual translation (AVT). Students will learn about the main methods of AVT, their advantages and disadvantages, the resulting difficulties for the interpreter and his/her responsibility for communication success. Special attention will be paid to the synergy resulting from the interrelation of codes involving the different senses of the recipient. Theoretical issues will be discussed in the course, but students will also be able to tackle AVT on their own by carrying out (individually or in groups) small projects.
